

Corn opened in New York yesterday at 112½, declined to 112½, and closed at 112½.

Tennessee Bonds closed in New York yesterday at 117½ for both the old and new issues.

Corrosion opened in New York yesterday at 20½ and closed at 20½ for middling.

There has been making a sensible speech, or at least it is exerting good effects in favor of the new French loan.

The President has recognized Lecombe De Laforest as Consul General from France at New York.

It is the last forty-eight months under Radical rule, the debt of the city of Philadelphia has been increased sixteen millions of dollars.

Letters received at Washington from Gov. Potts, of Montana, mentions that Hon. Jas. Cavanaugh has been defeated for re-nomination as delegate to Congress from that Territory.

The Secretary of the Treasury has given notice that the Treasury will commence paying the July interest without rebate on Monday next at the several Sub-Treasuries.

Alb. Dennis desires a Republican form of government for France, and has lately published a letter expressing his views on the subject.

The French loan is popular in the city of Boston, and arrangements have already been made for taking a large portion of the loan by German capitalists.

The British Minister, Sir Edward Thornton, who expected to take an early departure for home, has been notified by his Government to remain at Washington until further orders.

The Republican State Convention of Ohio in session yesterday at Columbus nominated Gen. Edward F. Noyes, of Cincinnati, as their candidate for governor. A Columbus dispatch indicates the character of resolutions adopted.

Mr. Fann, President Grant's Secretary of State, is about to resign, and, strange to say, does not seem to desire any more work in official harness. The name of Mr. Fish's probable successor is not yet mentioned.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says: A believer in the "Friday superstition" calls attention to the fact that it was on that malediction, if not unlucky day that President Lincoln and Mr. Vallandigham both received the shots that caused the deaths.

A new policy is about to be adopted in regard to hostile Indians in Texas and New Mexico. No further supplies are to be sent to Indians living outside of reservations, and those who connive at crimes in Texas are to be turned over to the Governor of that State for punishment.

SENATOR MORTON AND THE STATE DEPARTMENT. The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer writes, June 20: "Senator Morton's presence at Long Branch with the President, and the announced fact that he will accompany the Executive to the Pacific coast, are looked upon in political and official circles here as significant circumstances, in view of the grasp and influence the Indiana Senator has upon the President. Morton, it is well known, has a large number of axes to grind, and hence his adhesion to the person of Gen. Grant, for whom he cares nothing, except to the extent to which he may make use of him for his own selfish ends. It is also well known that for purposes best known to himself, Morton has been playing a sort of see-saw between the President and his friends and supporters. The belief is gaining strength that Morton wants, and has demanded, the State Department portfolio; and as there does not seem to be much doubt that Mr. Fish will carry out his long-cherished desire to retire, there is likely to be a vacancy in the Senatorial representation from Indiana, and a new Secretary of State at a very early day."

RADICAL EXTRAVAGANCE. As an effect to the charges brought against the Radical party, some of their journals have the audacity to declare that the expenditures of the government have been reduced, when the years 1869-70 and 1871 are compared. Mr. Beck, of Kentucky, a member of the Committee of Appropriations, just before the close of the last session of the Forty-first Congress, most effectively disposed of this falsehood, under which exposition even Mr. Dawes, with all his talent for making the worse appear the better cause, was forced to keep silent. According to a table presented by Mr. Beck, at that time, the expenditures for 1869-70 were $286,087,738, while those of 1870-71 were $292,835,134. The amounts appropriated for 1870-71 were slightly altered by the subsequent amendment of bills—for instance the Indian appropriation was increased more than one million of dollars—but no material change was made in the aggregate amount of appropriations. The expenses were increased instead of decreased by the last Congress. The public can form some idea as to the justice of the claim of "economy" set up by the Administration from a glance at the figures lately furnished by the Secretary of the Treasury. The total expenditures of the government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1870, were $63,025,738, while those for the fiscal year just closed amount to the enormous sum of $292,113,269. If from this latter amount be deducted the interest paid upon the public debt ($127,792,538), the cost of collecting the internal revenue, ($7,000,000), and an estimated increase on account of army and navy pensions, of $20,000,000 (the gross amount paid by the Department the last year being put down by the Department at $28,000,000 in round numbers), there will remain the sum of $137,410,931 as the amount of expenditures beyond those of the legitimate results of the civil war. These figures prove, as a contemporary, that instead of reducing the expenses of the government from a war basis, the Radicals are increasing them each year. It is well for tax payers to keep these things in mind. They are worth more than all the nonsense printed in the Radical papers.
